

HELPING CLIENTS MAKE BETTER DECISIONS

Our Company

Since establishment in 1984, Production Software Limited (PSL) has grown to meet the needs of their many customers. Based in Christchurch, New Zealand, PSL's success has been built on their ability to provide bespoke software solutions based around shared understandings and partnerships with their customers.

PSL's uncompromising attention to quality and an ISO 9001 accredited quality management system ensures that their services and products are of an exceptional standard.

Our Solutions

PSL's tailored solutions are designed to improve management decisions by enabling the effective sharing of information. PSL's custom-built software solutions support critical business processes that cannot be supported by "off the shelf" software packages. Customer involvement in the development of each solution is crucial to ensure that applications meet the specific needs of each customer.

Our Services

PSL provides both technical and operational expertise for each project, ensuring the best deployment of resources to achieve each customer's requirements. PSL's expertise enables their customers to make informed decisions about their future, while also streamlining their businesses to lower costs, increase revenue, and enhance their reputation.

Consultation and Assessment of Business Requirements

An initial consultation service enables clients to discuss their business needs and for PSL to assess and document each project's specific requirements.

Investigation and Project Scoping

Each project is thoroughly researched and the specific requirements, including the size, scope, time, resources and a detailed risk analysis, are documented.

Project Design and Development

The creation of the design specification and development of the solution includes system testing and verification.

Project Delivery

System installation, training, and a monitored release process are delivered following the best practice standards for each project.

Maintenance and Support

Regular system maintenance, operational support, project reviews and upgrades ensure the delivery of reliable solutions.

While teaching computer technology at Christchurch Polytechnic Institute of Technology, Graham saw the need for a company that would deliver tailored solutions for a range of customers, which led to the development of his successful technology business, Production Software Limited.

Our Customers

With more than 20 years of experience and knowledge in the software industry, PSL has successfully delivered a range of tailored solutions for a variety of customers. While working alongside customers in the power, transportation, mineral, and aviation industries, PSL has been able to build on their knowledge and provide valuable solutions to meet each of their customer's specific needs, without exception.

Some of PSL's key customers include:

- Tait Electronics. PSL has developed a number of software solutions for Tait Electronics' radio communications, including the company's latest TB8100 base station/repeater.

- Comalco Aluminium. PSL developed a vessel planning system for Comalco Aluminium, which enables vessel-based planning for cargo storage, port rotation, dunnage requirements, and manifests.

- South Port New Zealand. PSL developed an Internet-based warehouse and inventory system for South Port, which handles the warehousing and tracking of both break-bulk and container cargo.

"By capturing crucial data about the Port and its customers, AIMS enables us to make better and more informed decisions about our business and how we can best help our customers."

Nigel Gear, Cargo and Warehouse Manager, South Port.
